

ISAAC BENSON

VISION & PURPOSE

My Strength

My son, your honor has been replaced by my sacrifice, it is now undeniable and irreplaceable. You are free of precepts, you desire to do my will as I will it. Your love for my people may be rejected yet you, like an unrelenting storm you will love them all the more. Your understanding will bridge gaps and lead to impossible connections. Your submission to me is reflected in your service to my children. Your faith in the purpose I have for you is a gift.

Your Character

I am most proud of you when you take joy in the pursuit of your Me. When I see you serving my children with an open heart, ready to receive and guide them. If I were to describe you, I would use these words; Kind, Faithful, Honored, Fruitful, Joyful, Passionate, Ready, Giving, Prudent, Patient, and Loved. My son, you love a good story, something that speaks to a reality that others can't put into words. Your belief leads to action, You want to know me so you can share me. You desire adventure and that is a path I will take you on. You want a family you can share my love with. You want to be in the right standing with me because you love me. You desire a community to challenge and grow each other, but also for encouraging relationships.

Your Purpose

Son you will bring my people peace thru my word, The mind I have given you will be for building foundations firm and true. Your approach when centered on my truth will lead my children to prosper in their search for me. My presence in your life will model the way for others who need me. My son remain humble yet meek, and always remember If I am for you who can be against?
